Changes On Village Council Prospect

Addition of Ladies May Be Feature

There is prospect of the 1940 council of Champion being composed of two ladies and one gentleman according to rumor which has some foundation in facts.

There will be two vacancies on the council in 1940. Mayor Henderson's term expires and he has expressed a desire to retire while Fred Clever has already vacated his seat on the council.

To fill these chairs there are several names mentioned including ladies. Since Mrs. Fraser so ably occupies the Mayor's chair at Stavey there has been talk of women representatives on the council.

When spoken to by this paper one of the ladies whose name has been mentioned most stated she would be glad to do her bit during the war in guiding the affairs of the village if she were given an acclamation but she would not consider running a campaign to secure her election. The other lady could not be seen before press time to confirm or deny her willingness to serve. Both have property qualifications and a practical business experience.

Carnival For Red Cross Possibilities of Big Co-operative Effort Being Canvassed

There is an effort to canvass the possibilities of holding a big carnival for the Red Cross in which every district would have a part.

Mr. Butler, chairman of the finance committee has received a letter from an experienced showman who will donate his time to the Red Cross. His success elsewhere would insure proper conduct of the carnival.

In connection with the event there would be carnival Queen contest in which the Red Cross at Vulcan, Carmangay, Barons might be asked to participate on a business basis.

The matter is being studied as there are many angles to the proposition.

A Place For Everyone

Notice appears elsewhere regarding the registration of women for service in the national effort to win the war and it is hoped that a good response will result.

Praise is being heaped high on Prime Minister King and the members of the Government at Ottawa for the manner in which they are tackling the job. From the lips of L. W. Brockington, head of the Radio Corporation we heard a word picture of just how Premier King and Canadian citizens are entering into the conflict. There is no flag waving, no roll of drums but the absence of this marks a true sense of patriotism.

Instead of wasting time and energy waving flags and singing songs, men and women are coming forward offering their services to their country in any capacity. Men high in the financial sphere, industry, agriculture and the like have been drafted into the services of their country at the handsome salary of one dollar per year.

Politics are forgotten and the conservative headquarters at Ottawa are shut up.

Registration is being accepted by the Red Cross, the voluntary Registration for Women movement and the Government itself. If you do not wish to register locally a letter addressed to the Voluntary Service Registration Bureau Ottawa will be appreciated and will be given proper attention. The latter of course accepts offers from men and women, young and old and is headed by one of the best organizers in the Dominion. Dr. E. H. Coleman, who for 14 years was secretary of the Canadian Bar Association, is a noted lawyer and assisted in the organization of the Royal tour.

Our point is that at this time every citizen, men and women should register for service for there is some thing we can all do, not necessarily at the front but right here at home.

Your country needs you Register at once

Majority Are Loyal

It is related that the war-time situation has caused Mayor Houde of Montreal to refrain from offering his characteristic political criticisms, and he recently made the comment that he and the members of the City Council could rise to the occasion and act in a manner as patriotic as that of representatives of the people anywhere in Dominion. This is one more illustration of the true majority feeling in Quebec.

"I am worn almost to a frazzle for lack of sleep," writes E. G. "Each night I lie awake listening to the noises outside, and my nerves are so tensed that it is daylight before I get a wink of sleep. I get very provoked and in the morning I am anything but refreshed."

I think you are acting rather foolishly. There is no need for you to lie awake at nights. It seems to me that it is not the noises to which you refer that keep you awake but your own resentment toward those whom you think responsible for those noises.

After all we live in a world of noises, and in our day noises seem to be ever increasing. I am aware, of course that are quite unnecessary, but again there are other noises that cannot be avoided. You must learn to adapt yourself to the conditions in which you find your self.

If you think the noises that disturb you are due to the thoughtlessness of neighbors then a word fittingly spoken at the right moment may be all that is required to stop them. If however they are noises that cannot be remedied in this way, then I fear you will have to put up with them and train yourself to go to sleep in spite of them.

It is no use simply wishing the noises would cease. To lie awake swearing vengeance on those who are making noise is only harmful to yourself. Try to cultivate a calmer state of mind and, when you go to bed, completely relax mind and body. Tell yourself that no noise need worry you unless you allow it to do so.

Try not to think of noises. Fix your mind instead on something pleasant and concentrate on that. With your mind occupied you will soon become oblivious to the noise and fall into a deep sound asleep.

A Sermonette

My Affirmation

I will pray daily for world peace, believing that God wants me to do this and so establish His Kingdom on earth. I will try to work for it in some of the following ways:

1. By getting others to join in daily prayer.
2. By showing goodwill in a practical way in all my dealing with others in my own home, in my business and beyond.
3. By befriending people in distress at home and abroad.

Prayer at 12 o'clock Noon

Give peace for all time, O Lord and fill the hearts of all men everywhere, and my own, with the spirit of Our Lord Jesus Christ.

Forward Day by Day tell us that, three years ago a radio call went out from St. Michael's, Chester Square, London enlisting Christians to work and pray for peace.

Since then over two million persons have signed up all over the world for daily prayer.

A Sermon in Story Notice to Women

United Church Pastor Makes Contribution In Campaign Turn To God

The note book of Elbert Hubbard tells the story of a man he met who was on the ill-fated Titanic. The story of the Titanic has a fascinating appeal, coming as it does from the pen of the man who, a short two years later, was destined to meet at sea the death which he relates so vividly.

When the boilers burst and the great ship took her final plunge the man of whom Mr. Hubbard speaks felt himself going down into the waters. Being an experienced swimmer he knew exactly what to do. He held his breath knowing he would soon come to the top again. During those moments in the water he did a good deal of thinking. As his head came above the water he reached out his arms, flattened himself on the surface of the wave as nearly as possible and took in a big breath. Then he looked up at the stars and gratitude filled his soul.

He was still alive. He felt as one who had been dead, like Lazarus and returned to earth. He was alive. But suddenly there came to him he could only swim for a little while. He did so until he reached a floating spar and he was relieved when he felt that it was holding his weight. Again his soul was filled with gratitude.

Just then he saw a boat pull away. He called and called, to his joy slowly the boat turned in his direction. It came nearer and he knew that if he could get in that boat and feel that the boat was under him it would be paradise. In a few moments the wish came to pass and he was in the boat. They floated with the tide and they pulled the oars and slowly passed the night. In the morning they saw a great grey like form away off. They prayed, they wept and waited there was nothing else to do.

The Carpathia came nearer and this man prayed a great prayer that he might have the strength to climb the side of ship and lie on deck. This is all he would and he would be thankful. He was placed in a berth after receiving nourishment. He thought surely this is Paradise.

But an hour or two the crying of children, the smell of cooking and the presence of so many people began to pull on him, he felt that he must get away from the mob so he begged that might have a cabin but there was no available space. He begged for a place in the captain's cabin but this was not granted.

The campaign for Voluntary Registration of Canadian Women (V.R.C.W.) is well under way in this district. The committee comprising Mrs. Hugh S. Parker, chairman, Mrs. Vilas Teskey, Mrs. Ralph Clark, Mrs. Harvey Hicks, Mrs. Walter Neilson will be on hand at the Carmangoy Library on, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week to receive registrations. It is essential that every woman in the district should realize that this registration will not interfere in any way at all with any other organization to which she may belong or with any other activity to which she is devoting her energies and time. But it is equally essential that every woman should register, even though she may feel that her time and capabilities are limited, because all names will be filed with the Dominion government and in a case of a grave national emergency, either individuals or in groups could readily be procured for service.

Members of the committee are able to give further information regarding questionnaires and registration will be received throughout this month beginning Thursday.

Golf, Tennis, Fishing, Riding, Yachting Victoria Sports During Winter Months

Golf, tennis, lawn bowling, riding, hunting and fishing may be unusual winter sports for most of Canada but not for Victoria, beautiful Island capital of British Columbia, where snow is a novelty, flowers bloom throughout the year, and overcoats are excess baggage.

Winter golf is the sport that attracts widest notice to Victoria's wonderful year-round climate, but the West Coast has its pilgrims who are drawn there each winter by the splendid weather and the series of unusual sports and social attractions made possible by the fine weather.

Winter fishing is a major sport in Brantwood Bay where sizeable grilse and spring salmon are caught by trolling. Fly fishing for steelhead salmon up to 20 pounds is found in east-slope rivers such as the Oyster, Cowichan, Englishman's, Nanaimo, and Big and Little Qualicum.

Best known of the winter attractions is the Mid-Winter Golf Tournament which will be held this year on the Royal Colwood course, March 3-9. Keen competition, a sporty course and good golfing weather, added to the many prizes of which the most important is the trophy presented by Sir Edward Beatty, make the tourney one of the most popular in Canada.

Riding, hiking, lawn bowling, boating are but a few more sports that are as popular in Victoria in winter as in summer. Fiestas are arranged from time to time, named after flowers then in bloom. Probably the most picturesque celebration is the Christmas festival in Old English style, complete with boar's head, yule logs, wassail bowl and carols.

Victoria and the Empress Hotel have enjoyed a growing popularity in recent years. A real impetus has been given this season by the fact that foreign exchange under war pressure makes a Canadian dollar worth considerably more in Canada than in the United States.
